The responsibilities of such a commission or committee can vary depending on its mandate, but they generally include the following: 1) Policy Development; 2) Environmental Monitoring; 3) Public Education and Outreach; 4) Permitting and Compliance; 5) Environmental Impact Assessment; 6) Natural Resource Management; 7) Emergency Response; 8) Research and Innovation.

I received BS and Master degree in Environment Engineering.

My personality traits of being pleasant, energetic, enthusiastic, and knowledgeable are well-suited for a position in environmental protection. These qualities can help me build positive relationships, inspire others, and effectively advocate for environmental causes. However, in addition to these traits, having a strong understanding of environmental science and policy is crucial for success in such a role. Consider pursuing opportunities that allow me to apply my enthusiasm and knowledge to make a meaningful impact in environmental conservation.

Describe why you want to serve on this commission and what you hope to accomplish as a member?

My two kids are all grown up. I have lots of free time.

I'm passionate about environmental protection and wish to serve on this commission to contribute actively. As a member, I aim to promote sustainable practices, raise awareness, and advocate for policies that reduce our environmental impact. My goal is to leave a lasting legacy of environmental stewardship for our community."
